GAS TO DISTRIBUTORS 50 CENTS; TO USERS $1.20

EAST BOSTON CONSUMERS DEMAND BETTER QUALITY AND REDUCTION TO 80 CENTS.

That East Boston gas consumers are forced to pay $1.20 per 1,000 feet for gas when the company makes it supplies gas at fifty cents per 1,000 feet, first said the Boston Globe. Then, in the Boston Herald, it was shown at a public hearing today before the Massachusetts Gas and Electric Light Commission.

It was also shown that East Boston consumers have to bear the expense of the distribution of gas to the other companies in the city included in the price of $1.20 per 1,000 feet.

The company could pay 10 per cent. dividends, Mr. Schuman declared.

Mr. Schuman also claimed the consumers of gas, and said that the East Boston consumers would have to pay for the gas in Boston prices, which would be a loss to them. On the basis of $4,000,000 per year, the price could be placed at eighty cents per 1,000 feet.

"We have come here for light on this question," Mr. Schuman said. "The law does not require that those who own the property should be the ones to estimate or expert accountants. It means that the public should be given the opportunity to obtain for its information."

Testimony to Court.

At the hearing to-day the petitioners were represented by Attorney Charles J. Noyes, and by James H. Hunt of the law firm of Charles J. Noyes & Co. James H. Hunt, secretary of the East Boston Gas Co., testified that Charles E. Noyes, president of the company, had been in the fight with the HOK-TIN alliance for some time, and for eight or ten years.

He testified that gas is distributed at rates from 25 to 35 cents per cubic foot, and that the rates for gas in East Boston are 83 cents per cubic foot.

If the price were reduced in East Boston to 50 cents per cubic foot, the East Boston Gas Co. would lose $100,000 a year, he testified.

"About 32 cents,"

Mr. Noyes testified that his company sold gas to the Suburban Gas & Electric Co. in Wilmington and North Andover, and that the rates in those districts were 50 cents and 50 cents, and that those in your own district at $1.00 per cubic foot.

"Yes,"

He also showed that the gas consumed in East Boston had to be sent the expense of the East Boston Gas Co. to the gas company, whether in or out of East Boston.

Asked by Mr. Hunt what firm owned the supplying East Boston Gas Co., he added, in reply to Mr. Noyes, that the East Boston Gas Co. was a corporation of which the ownership of the stock was divided among the stockholders.

Mystery Involves Movements of Japanese Main Fleet, but Cruisers Are Reported Headed Towards Singapore—Tokio Believes Togo May Strike at Any Moment.

LONDON, April 11.—All indications now are that the Russian and Japanese fleets will meet in battle off the port of Saigon, French Cochinchina. Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet is believed to be headed for that port, and the German steamer Struve reports passing two Japanese cruisers, evidently scouts, bound south either for Saigon or Singapore.

Reports brought in special dispatches received here to-day are that the Japanese have closed the port of Kelung, Formosa, thus indicating that this will be used as Togo's base of supplies. Coincident with this information comes news that the Russian fleet, reported off the Anambas Islands, 200 miles northeast of Singapore, is moving toward Saigon. The battleship fleet, under Rojestrensky, last reported at Banca Island, is also reported moving northeast toward Saigon.

VEIL HIDES JAPANESE FLEET.
These facts coupled with the additional fact that the main body of the Japanese fleet, moving South from Formosa, would arrive off Saigon simultaneously with the Russian fleet, indicates to naval experts that the great battle will be fought near the latter port.

While the whereabouts of the Russian fleet, now split in two, is known definitely, there is still great mystery as to the whereabouts of the Japanese fleet. Tokyo reports that the Japanese are feeling there that a final battle for supremacy of the seas is imminent. The very secrecy which has attended the Japanese movements tends to confirm this belief in London.

St. Petersburg dispatches to-day say that Rojstevskiy is trying to reach Saigon in order to make repairs. Under the international rules of war he can only make such repairs at that port as are absolutely necessary to continue his journey, and he is expected to sought refuge there from the Japanese, the refuge would be short lived.

Lowell Police Baffled in Efforts to Solve CANAL GIRL MYSTERY

Was Young Woman Whose Body Was Found Near Mill Slain?
the City Is Asking.

Special to the Boston American.
LOWELL, April 11.—The mystery of the identity of the dead girl whose body was found in the canal near the Merrimack Mills has deepened since the possibility of it being Miss Eva Littlefield has been eliminated.

The police and residents of this city and of all the mill cities and towns along the Merrimack are to-day asking: "Who is the girl?"

Of the one thing are the police satisfied that the girl worked in a mill. Her clothing showed that. Across the front of the skirt she wore is a large pocket for holding cotton waste.

Whether she was the victim of murder or self-destruction has not been determined. Although the marks about her head have served to give the authorities the impression that she met with foul play.

FROM SOME OTHER CITY

TO-day as earnest and sincere in vestigation as the police are in the of the girl could be learned. The police are satisfied that she does not belong in the city, and that the description of her description is missing. It is believed that the body was carried by the Merrimack and that she was taken to the city from possibly from New Hampshire, and fell dispositions of the body have been for were made such as to be taken to her her home.

The coroner's inquest cleared the mystery that shrouds this death of a mill girl only fifty-five years of age—the police are satisfied that she was not in the city when she met her death. Other dispositions of the body have been made such as to be taken to her home in her working clothes.

Did this girl may be on her way from the Merrimack to the city, and possibly, she was taken to the city from possibly from New Hampshire, and fell dispositions of the body have been for were made such as to be taken to her
her home.

MAY SACRIFICE ONE FLEET.

It may be that Rojestvensky, instead of seeking to join the fleet reported at Annapolis Islands will permit the forces of the Russian fleet to be destroyed in the Gulf of Alaska or in the Bering Sea. The Russian Admiralty has received two long dispatches from Admiral Rojestvensky, according to a report in Paris.

In St. Petersburg there is a widespread belief among Admiralty officials that the LAST NIGHT'S PERFORMINGS AT BOSTON PLAYHOUSES.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell's "Sorceress" a Real Art Work

By Eleanor Ames.

It would be difficult to find a more wonderful production as "The Sorceress" than the conventional ending to her romance, under the name of her choice and life supply in the hands of the actress.

So she does like Juliet, slain by a self-given death poison, shared by the lover to whom life was the cause of the deepest trouble and keenest joy.

First in the historic outdoor of the early days of the sixteenth century during the romance history and extended was the scene of the Spanish Inquisition, when Mrs. Campbell was things depicted and travelling covers were stretched on the rack or burned at the stake.
